

I feel very strongly that the media is already too restricted and that combining ownship of TV and newspapers will only further that process. News in the service of special interests rather than for public information is not, in my opinion, supportive of democratic ways.